CONTACT INFORMATION	Northwestern University Department of Linguistics 2016 Sheridan Rd. Evanston, IL 60208 USA E-mail: emily.cibelli@northwestern.edu Website: http://faculty.wcas.northwestern.edu/~esc642
RESEARCH INTERESTS	Speech perception and production, Categorization, Interactive models of language processing, The neural representation of speech, Bilingualism and second language acquisition, Speech and language use in diverse populations and clinical contexts
ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS	Postdoctoral research associate Department of Linguistics, Northwestern University September 2015 - present Lecturer Department of Linguistics, Northwestern University September 2015 - June 2017 Undergraduate advisor Department of Cognitive Science, Northwestern University September 2015 - June 2017
EDUCATION	Ph.D., Linguistics August 2015 University of California, Berkeley Dissertation: Aspects of articulatory and perceptual learning in novel phoneme acquisition Committee: Keith Johnson (chair), Susanne Gahl, Robert Knight M.A., Linguistics August 2011 University of California, Berkeley B.A., Cognitive and Linguistic Sciences June 2009 Wellesley College Visiting student Spring 2008 National University of Ireland, Galway
FUNDING	W Award , Northwestern University 2017-2018 $35,000 for research support for one year. Goldrick, M., Mittal, V., & Cibelli, E. "Using motor control disruptions in speech to predict risk for psychotic disorders". Data Science Initiative Grant , Northwestern University 2016-2017 $30,000 for postdoctoral stipend support for one year. Goldrick, M., Mittal, V., & Cibelli, E. "Revealing schizophrenia through patterns of variation in speech". NSF Graduate Research Fellowship 2010-2012, 2014-2015 $90,000 for graduate stipend for three years. Phi Beta Kappa Northern California Association Scholarship 2014 $5,000 for research costs and subject fees. Dean's Normative Time Fellowship , University of California Berkeley 2013-2014 $21,000 for one year of graduate stipend support.
